

Renato Nazzini

Renato Nazzini is Professor of Law at King's College London, where he leads the Competition Law LLM, and a partner of LMS Legal LLP, London. He is an expert in antitrust, regulated sectors, state aid and European Union law as well as international arbitration and dispute resolution. As a dually qualified practitioner in England and Wales and in Italy, Renato focuses on cartels, abuses of a dominant position, vertical agreements, mergers, litigation, arbitration and ADR in the EU, Italy, the UK and globally. Prior to moving to academia and private practice, Renato was Deputy Director of Legal and Policy at the UK Competition Authority (currently the Competition and Markets Authority, but at the time known as the Office of Fair Trading) where he led on major areas of enforcement and policy, including financial services, damages actions in competition law, and the review of the policy on abuse of dominance under Article 102 TFEU, as well as advising across the whole range of antitrust and merger enforcement. He also acts as counsel and arbitration in international arbitrations.

Renato published widely on substantive and procedural competition law and policy, including, in particular, three fully authored books: Competition Enforcement and Procedure (Oxford, OUP 2016), The Foundations of European Union Competition Law: The Objective and Principles of Article 102 (Oxford, OUP 2011) and Concurrent Proceedings in Competition Law: Procedure, Evidence and Remedies (Oxford, OUP 2004).

He holds doctorates from the Universities of London and Milan. Among other academic appointments, he has been Visiting Professor at the University of Turin, Visiting Professor at the University of Zurich, Visiting Professor at the FGV School of Law of San Paulo, Brazil, Senior Research Fellow at the British Institute of International and Comparative Law, and Professor of Competition Law and Arbitration at the University of Southampton. He is a non-governmental adviser (NGA) to the International Competition Network (ICN), a member of the ICC Italian ADR and Arbitration Committee, a member of the ICC Task Force on addressing corruption issues in international arbitration, a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, and Director of Research of the Centre of Construction Law and Dispute Resolution at King's College London.
